

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT SPEAKS

ORATOR AT THE 86TH COMMENCEMENT OF COLLEGE.

Thrilling Patriotic Message Given the Graduating Class.

The 86th Commencement of Gettysburg College was largely a two-feature celebration, the Baccalaureate Sermon and the Graduating Exercises. The complication made by the war, boys drafted and enlisting, etc., was responsible for the conditions that made it difficult to have all the usual features and hence the Commencement became the two-feature celebration and the graduating exercises made up for any shortage by the masterful and patriotic oration by ex-President Taft.

The Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday morning in College Church was by Rev. Harvey D. Hoover, Ph.D., President of Carthage College, Ill., and a graduate of Gettysburg College. His message to the class was the three words of a text, "Led," "Lifted," and "Blessed," and he pointed the way to the college graduate of the opportunities this war presented for service and the great work of rebuilding that would follow the war.

Sunday evening Rev. E. H. Burgess, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the address at the baccalaureate service.

Turning to the present position of the world, the speaker stated, the case of the United States and of Great Britain versus Germany. He then reviewed the course of neutrality subsequent to the outbreak of hostilities in 1914 and most convincingly he showed that it had followed consistently the line of non-interference in the European war.

Our severance of diplomatic relations soon followed, and from our shore we sent that agitator of violence, Johann von Bernstorff. What other course, then, was open to us but an appeal to arms, when American ships were being sunk and a total of 200 citizens murdered? To be sure Germany had warned us in advance; but this was no justification for the crime. And if by retaliation against England she struck at us, Germany could merit nothing less than war. And so we entered the great conflict, not to force democracy upon an unwilling people, but to equalize opportunities so that the common people may establish free government, unhampered by military autocracy. And so today America has taken her place beside the nations of the world against Germany. The battle is being waged between right and wrong, and the issues are clear and unclouded.

With scholarly precision Mr. Taft took up the historical facts which have been influencing the German nation. Once the people were liberty-loving and free; but in 1848 their independence was destroyed, and autocracy began to flourish in Prussia. Bismarck in later years completely established militarism, and saddled upon all Germany the despotic system of Prussia, which made the individual subservient to the Emperor. A false political philosophy was thus established, and it flourished throughout the land. German "Kultur" was to become universal by means of might. War was to be the instrumentality for its accomplishment; and so war was precipitated by an all-knowing, all-planning, but seemingly reluctant Emperor.

Since the outbreak of the dread conflict our enemy has let loose untold horrors that he might conquer. Poison gas, rapine, murder of innocents, and massacres are among his crimes. And so we must completely defeat Germany if we desire to dwell in safety and be assured that such horrors will not be perpetrated on the human race again. Mr. Taft closed his masterful address with an appeal for more men to aid in the sacred struggle; and he showed how the members of 1918 would be willing and ready to give themselves to the great task. And then with their sacrifice, will come the realization that they have given their all to make the world a fit place in which to live.

RED CROSS PROCLAMATION PERSONAL POINTS OF VIEW

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS WEEK OF MAY 20 RED CROSS WEEK.

People of the United States Will be Called Upon to Give Generously.

President Wilson's Red Cross proclamation is as follows: Inasmuch as the war fund of 1917, so generously contributed by the American people to the American Red Cross for the administration of relief at home and abroad, has been virtually exhausted by appropriations for the welfare of the men in our military and naval forces, and for those dependent upon them and for the yet more urgent necessities of our allies, military and civilian, who have long borne the brunt of war; And inasmuch as the year of our own participation in the war has brought unprecedented demands upon the patriotism and liberality of our people and made evident the necessity of concentrating the work of relief in one main organization which can respond effectively and universally to the needs of humanity under stress of war; And inasmuch as the duration of the war and the closer and closer cooperation of the American Red Cross with the army and navy, with the governments of our allies and with the organizations of our people have resulted in the discovery of new methods of relieving the suffering and conditions which translate our sympathies into effective aid.

It is the duty of the American people to contribute to the work of the American Red Cross in the most generous manner possible. The American Red Cross is the only organization which can respond effectively and universally to the needs of humanity under stress of war.

Entire Crew Honored.

Secretary Daniels has commended for gallant behavior Lieut. Daniel E. Barbey of the United States steamship Annapolis. Not only is the officer credited with bravery, but all of the members of the crew share in the honor. This display of heroism came when the steamship Paddleford went aground. Barbey and two of his men undertook the hazardous work of carrying a life-line to the wrecked vessel through a dangerous surf. This made it possible to rescue and bring ashore two-thirds of the crew. Lieutenant Barbey is a native of Oregon, his parents living at 425 Tenth street, Portland. He was appointed to the naval academy in 1908.

New Light on Anarchism.

It was at our last meeting in Tiflis that the indomitable optimist threw new light on his anarchism.

"Kropotkin, Reclus and myself were sitting together in London once, discussing our theories. We were talking a great deal of satisfaction in the thought that we were anarchists, who recognized no rights of coercive government."

"But," he added with a smile, "I said to them: 'There is one government before which we gladly bow and whose petty oppressions we willingly endure. You forget our wives.'—Maynard Owen Williams, in Christian Herald.

AS IN SHAKESPEARE'S TIME

Old Tudor Architecture of Town of Stratford-on-Avon Has Been Wonderfully Restored.

Americans, who in prewar days, delighted in visiting "Shakespeare's country," would find many changes there now.

Quietly and unostentatiously through the unwearying efforts of Marie Corelli, the novelist, and a few who support her artistic tastes, these last three and a half years have disclosed the ancient mysteries of Stratford. Old houses, with plastered walls, which were eyesores to the visitors and residents alike, have been stripped of their outward ugliness, to reveal the quaint picturesque Tudor architecture of Shakespeare's time. Wherever it has been possible the early appearance of the buildings has been restored, and the effect has been a transformation and the restoration of the place as Shakespeare knew it.

The ancient "Sword of State" which hangs in Shakespeare's birthplace was removed from its scabbard in August, 1914, as an armed notice that England was at war and the people say tradition forbids there to sheathe the old sword, carried by Shakespeare's father when he was high sheriff in 1589-90, until England is again at peace.

Once at least, steel war was declared, Shakespeare's old home has given evidence to its feeling of gratitude to Americans for the tributes they have been privileged to pay to it from time to time. That was when the United States entered the war. President Wilson's memorable message to the congress was proclaimed aloud. Many of the townfolk had almost despaired of the momentous event, and it appears there were only two American flags in Stratford at the time. One was a great banner owned by Miss Marie Corelli and the other waving from the house of John Harvard's mother. Both were promptly hurled out into the breeze of the "garden spot of England," and thus America had again come into the hearts of Shakespeare's people.

Confirmed for Rheumatism.

Rev. Joshua Kimber, in his "Reminiscences," tells the following anecdote of the late Bishop Horatio Potter:

He had been journeying up the east bank of the Hudson river, stopping for confirmation each day at adjoining parishes. When he reached Poughkeepsie he saw a woman at the rail waiting for confirmation whose face he was sure he recognized and was somewhat familiar with. He was also certain that she had been confirmed within the week at another place. The bishop whispered to her to remain after service, and said:

"My dear madam, what do you mean by coming for confirmation? I am sure I confirmed you on Monday at such a place. Did I not?"

She said: "You certainly did. I have been following you up the river and have been confirmed every day this week."

He, astonished, said: "Why do you do that?"

Whereupon she replied: "Because I heard it was good for rheumatism."

Prussian War Centennial.

The year 1918 marks a notable passage in the history of Prussia. A hundred years ago Prussia rose against Napoleon, who was already weakened by the retreat from Moscow, and, with the help of Austrians, and also a very large body of Russians, they managed to drive the French army over the frontier, after defeating it in the tremendous two days struggle at Leipzig.

Many are the centennial celebrations that are arranged for this year, and, as a conclusion, it is hoped that the czar will visit the battlefield of Leipzig at the end of the year in company with the kaiser. The Russian co-operation at Leipzig, it should be explained, was particularly strong, and at least 22,000 Russian troops were killed in the fight.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE.

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Gettysburg Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorser who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed, with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It's from a Gettysburg resident:

Mrs. Mary Ohler, 147 Hanover St., says: "I was troubled by weak kidneys for over a year. My back ached constantly and pains extended from my joints into my head. I had chills and dizzy spells and was bothered by my kidneys acting irregularly. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended I got a box at the Peoples Drug Store and commenced their use. A few doses brought relief and after using them for a short time, all symptoms of the trouble left."

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Over six years later, Mrs. Ohler said: "I heartily recommended Doan's Kidney Pills again and confirmed all I previously said about them. Doan's should be in every home."

How to Cut down your Fuel Expenses

THINK how much coal you burn in a range when you're not cooking. That's all wasted—money thrown away. And Uncle Sam wants every housewife who can, to save coal. Here is a good way for you to do your part. Use an oil cook stove instead of the fuel-wasting coal range. Then the only time you use fuel is when you are cooking. And that fuel, kerosene, is much more economical than coal.

NEW PERFECTION OIL COOK STOVE

not only give most satisfactory results—they save steps in house work and do all the cooking just as well (usually better) than a coal range.

Think how easy it is to strike a match and have a hot fire in less than a minute. No coal or wood to carry. No getting down on hands and knees to rake and poke at the fire. Your New Perfection is always ready when you are.

But after you do get your New Perfection be careful what kind of kerosene you use. There is only one kind that will always give most satisfactory results. It is called Atlantic Rayolight Oil to distinguish it from the other kinds. Ask for it by name. Atlantic Rayolight Oil is so highly refined that it burns without smoke, smell or sputter. Gives a more intense heat, too.

Select your New Perfection Oil Cook stove now. There's a dealer near you.

RAISE THE LIMIT

Every farmer who has access to a pile of stable manure or who keeps live stock on his farm should have a good manure spreader, a Corn King, this year. Don't let power and help conditions keep you from raising as much as you can on every acre. Use a Low Corn King spreader and either fertilize your fields before planting or top dress your growing crops this year. There is no easier, surer or better way to secure a paying increase in crops from every acre you plant. How would a thirty-bushel to the acre increase in corn, or a ten-bushel increase in wheat look to you this year? All right, then buy and use a

Low Corn King Manure Spreader

Wheels just the right distance apart, and spread wide enough to top dress three rows of corn at once. Threesizes—small, medium and large. All narrow boxes. All steel frames with working parts of the spreader securely attached to the frame. Turns short. Drive from both rear wheels. Return apron driven by worm gear which insures even spreading up hill and down. Pull comes straight on steel frame. Solid two-inch rear axle working in Roller bearings carries seventy-five per cent of the load. All steel beater cannot warp, shrink, or rot. Built up to International Harvester standards of quality in every respect.

Buy a Corn King spreader and use it. The increased yield from a few acres will pay for your spreader this year. Come in and place your order NOW.

VOTE FOR BRODBECK.

American Democratic voters at the primaries next week want to nominate men for Congress who stand for war until victory, men who are whole hearted and unequivocal supporters of the war aims of the nation and its purposes to prosecute the war to a successful termination. There is only one so announced candidate among the Democratic aspirants, Hon. A. R. Brodbeck. Candidates who do not state their positions as to the war and avoid doing so when criticized, have no lack when American Democrats refuse to vote for them. Hon. A. R. Brodbeck, by his votes in Congress and all public utterances consistently stands for winning the war to make the world fit to live in and deserves re-election.

Back Up the Country—the President

Our Country is in a crisis. We are fighting to maintain and retain our liberty and freedom. We are raising armies of millions of men. Our people are raising billions of dollars in the effort to keep our Country free and our people from being enslaved. Then express your mind the best way you can by voting up the men who stand with the machinery of our Government.

It is highly important that we have men in Congress at Washington who not only know what to do, but have proven by their actions that they stand absolutely for the Country and with the President. Mr. Brodbeck, your Representative in Congress, has shown by his record and his actions that he can absolutely be depended upon to do what you would do. To stand for the

A. R. BRODBECK

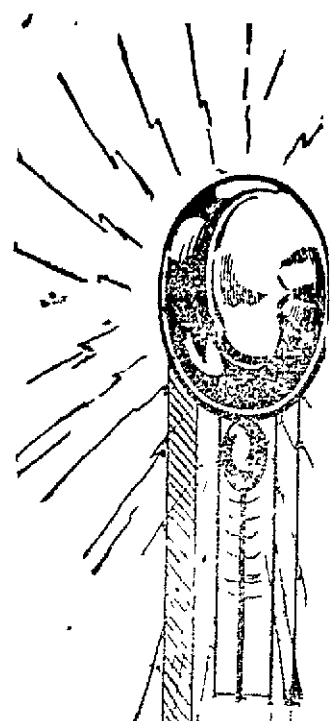

Country, because he has done so; to stand with, for and by the President, because his record guarantees this, and his experience as your Representative in Congress is of particular value to YOU. Every day important matters are coming up. Every day important matters will come up: matters of life and death that are referred not only to Congress as a body, but to the individual membership. That is where Mr. Brodbeck's experience counts.

To win this war we must show to the world that we are solidly with the Country and solidly back of the President. Let us stop the slaughter as soon as possible and have peace, but we must have the kind of peace that will guarantee our future liberty and freedom and human rights and that we will not have another war during our lifetime. This is what our President stands for, this is what Mr. Brodbeck stands for, this is what it is believed you stand for, so it is to your interest not only to make it your business to go to the polls and vote for Mr. Brodbeck because by so voting you show that you stand back of the President and with the Country, but to impress on your friends the importance of this coming election and bear well in mind that it doesn't pay to swap horses in mid-stream.

at the Primaries next Tuesday

Gentlemen:--

Next Tuesday's primaries will be the most critical election in the history of your district.

Grave issues are at stake and upon your decision depends success or failure at the next general election.

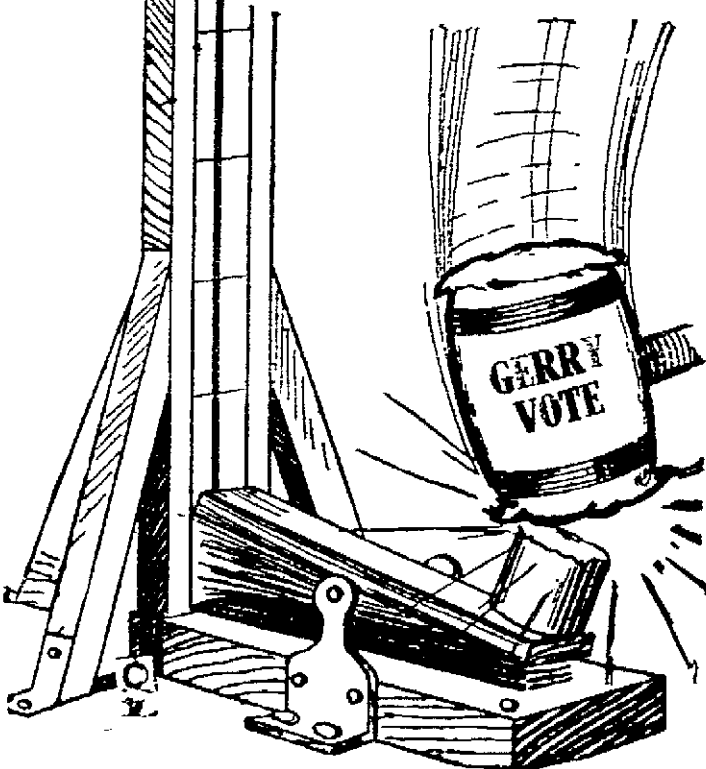

Will you nominate a man for Congress around whom the Democrats will rally as a unit or will you allow yourselves to be cozened into nominating a man who will weaken your party and render its defeat easy for its opponents in November?

You surely do not want to be defeated; therefore, nominate James J. Gerry and you will have nominated the man whose chances of victory are better than any other in the field.

He is your logical candidate from every point of view and he has all the qualifications of a winner.

Decide to stand by him---let none divert you from your purpose --and go "over the top" next Tuesday with

Baldness Conquered

RECIPE MAILED FREE

A veteran business man, who was almost completely bald and had tried numerous tonics, lotions, shampoos, etc., without benefit, came across, while on a journey, an Indians' recipe by which he grew a complete crop of healthy, luxuriant hair that he now possesses.

Others—men and women—have reported remarkable hair growth by the same method. Whoever wishes the recipe may obtain it free by writing to John Hart Brittain, 13A-222, Station F, New York, N. Y. Or obtain a box of the ointment, Kotallo, made according to the perfected recipe, at the drug store, ready for use.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

In a vast number of cases, when hair falls out, the roots are not dead, but remain imbedded in the scalp, alive, like seeds or bulbs, needing only fertility. The usual alkaline shampoos, alcoholized hair tonics, etc., are of no avail in such cases. The Indians' ointment nourishes the hair and stimulates the growth.

Kotallo fertilizes the scalp and induces hair growth in every case possible. Wonderful results reported. For men, a crown and children's hair. If you are bald, or losing hair, or have dandruff, you should try Kotallo. It is a pleasure to observe the starting of new hair and its steady increase until a prolific growth supersedes this hair or baldness. Out of this notice, show to others who want beautiful hair. The recipe is free. This is genuine.

WHEAT WILL WIN THE WAR

Eat It, and You Help the Hun; Save It, and You Fight For Freedom

THE WORLD FACES A CHOICE

America's Problem is to Feed Her Allies—Her Own Food Supply is Already Safe.

"Not less important than the military crisis in Europe is the food situation in the whole world and the entire food problem centers around the wheat supply. Wheat will win the war—or lose it," is a terse and pointed statement of Howard Heinz, U. S. Food Administrator for Pennsylvania.

It has now become a race among three factors, with the odds against our side. These three factors are the approach of the next harvest, the rapid diminution of wheat stocks among the allied nations and the conservation measures put into effect by the patriotic people of the United States in their efforts to piece out a narrow surplus for an anxious world.

Among these factors the next harvest creeps forward all too slowly; the supply in the bins of the Allies is sinking rapidly. If the situation were limited to these two—if it were a competition between them alone—the race would already be lost. It is only increased conservation in America that will keep starvation from being the victor.

The Allies must and will be fed. America must and will save.

Our food supply already has been protected. There is no danger here. But the time has come to shield the wheat from export and supply it to the troops and the civilians of our own country.

Howard Heinz has done this. He has pointed out the need of a "wheat ration" and has secured the cooperation of the people of this country.

The Food Administrator of Pennsylvania has issued a "wheat ration" and has secured the cooperation of the people of this country.

The moral is plain. Large numbers of our people must eat no wheat what-

COMING INTO USE

Even Cake That "Sticks" in the Mouth Can Be Made by Using This Product.

To most people potato flour is a brand-new commodity, utterly unknown until the recent potato famine ruling went into effect. Potato flour has been known in Europe for years previous to the war; quantities were imported from Germany, and sold at a fancy price for various baking purposes.

One woman, near Philadelphia, established a reputation for cake baking by her use of potato flour. For a long time she had to get all of her supply from Boston, but finally she found it could be purchased in the leading retail stores in Philadelphia. She used potato flour in a sponge cake recipe and for eight years carried off every prize at the county fairs. This sponge cake is of the most delicate texture, literally "melts in one's mouth." Any one can make this cake by using potato flour. This potato flour can now be purchased in most any grocery store and while it is not a cheap article, it is sufficiently inexpensive to be worth while for cake baking.

Some of our mothers tell now, during the Civil War, one of the weekly duties of some housewives was to prepare potatoes so that starch could be readily obtained. The potatoes were washed and then finely sliced in a tub, covered with water and after some hours of soaking and squeezing the potato starch could be found at the bottom of the tub. It was then nearly pure and a little bit of it would make a very fine cake. In fact, it was so good that it was used in the making of the famous "potato cake" which was a favorite treat of the time.

There are many ways of making wheat flour, but it is so good that it is the best.

SEEMED ALL RIGHT TO HIM

But Possibly Mr. Soos Was More Interested in Cupid Than in Mere Matter of Spelling.

At last! The day, the hour, the minute, had arrived. Mr. Soos, the tall and handsome school inspector, stepped through the doorway of Alberta Blowy's classroom and bowed pleasantly to the children. "Good morning," he said. "I've just dropped in to see how well the children know their lessons."

"Long!" Miss Blowy smiled at this moment. Long had she had dreams of Mr. Soos, captivated at the perfect answers of her perfect pupils, falling in love with them all. And the children had been so good! Truly! They knew their lessons perfectly.

"James Whitlock, I will. Upon you first," said Miss Blowy sweetly. "James, what is a blizzard?"

"It's inside of a chicken and it's good to eat when it's cooked," answered James promptly.

Miss Blowy swallowed hard. "Eloise, spell 'unique'."

"Y-u-n-i-double, e-k, unique," responded little Eloise promptly.

Miss Blowy swallowed harder and collapsed with her head in the waste paper basket. "What is the trouble, my dear Miss Blowy?" asked Mr. Soos in perfect wonderment. "Your scholars seem to be very, very well informed."

He then rushed to extricate her and they married and lived happily ever after.—Chicago Blade.

WHEAT WILL WIN THE WAR

Eat It, and You Help the Hun; Save It, and You Fight For Freedom

THE WORLD FACES A CHOICE

America's Problem is to Feed Her Allies—Her Own Food Supply is Already Safe.

"Not less important than the military crisis in Europe is the food situation in the whole world and the entire food problem centers around the wheat supply. Wheat will win the war—or lose it," is a terse and pointed statement of Howard Heinz, U. S. Food Administrator for Pennsylvania.

It has now become a race among three factors, with the odds against our side. These three factors are the approach of the next harvest, the rapid diminution of wheat stocks among the allied nations and the conservation measures put into effect by the patriotic people of the United States in their efforts to piece out a narrow surplus for an anxious world.

Among these factors the next harvest creeps forward all too slowly; the supply in the bins of the Allies is sinking rapidly. If the situation were limited to these two—if it were a competition between them alone—the race would already be lost. It is only increased conservation in America that will keep starvation from being the victor.

The Allies must and will be fed. America must and will save.

Our food supply already has been protected. There is no danger here. But the time has come to shield the wheat from export and supply it to the troops and the civilians of our own country.

Howard Heinz has done this. He has pointed out the need of a "wheat ration" and has secured the cooperation of the people of this country.

The Food Administrator of Pennsylvania has issued a "wheat ration" and has secured the cooperation of the people of this country.

The moral is plain. Large numbers of our people must eat no wheat what-

FEARS INCREASE OF DISEASE

New York Physician Sees More Affection of the Thyroid Gland as Result of the War.

A marked increase in disease of the thyroid gland as a result of the war is predicted by Dr. S. P. Beebe of New York in the Medical Record. He bases this prediction on observations in Europe and in the fact that many of these people had suffered in the Kishineff massacre developed this disease after coming to New York; that their terrible experience in the Triangle Shirt Waist Company's fire produced the same trouble in at least three of the sufferers and a similar effect was observed after the San Francisco earthquake.

For hyperthyroidism, as it is called, is known to be an effect of intense emotion, fright, distress, worry and mental and physical exhaustion.

"The civil population will suffer from a similar emotional disturbance," he continues. "The wives, sisters, sweethearts and mothers of the soldiers have had some foretaste of what is to come, and, unless all previous experience is to be contradicted, the incidence of hyperthyroidism will be markedly increased."

Doctor Beebe says the sufferers will need special care, and the disease must be recognized and treated at once if the cure is not to be tediously long.

DID IT BY PROXY

Miss Hoyt Was Not Surprised
With the Song the College
Boys Sang.

By MILDRED CAROLINE GOOD-RIDGE.

"Young and rich and good looking,
too, I suppose," spoke Harvey Lane.

His companion, Willard Price, young and rich himself unfortunately, for he was idle and without ambition, languidly drew a photograph from his pocket and extended it towards Lane.

"Pretty as a picture," voted the latter spontaneously. There was real and earnest admiration in his frank open face. Then it clouded a trifle.

He was too poor and humble in his own estimation to dare to aspire for recognition in the upper circle into which his companion had admitted.

"This Miss Drusa Hoyt at Akron," explained Price. "She attended the seminary there while I was at the college. Those were great days—music, picnics, a rowing on the lake. My cousin—she is a dear friend of Miss Hoyt. They met a few days ago and Lecia fully told me she was going to send me around to visit one of the old friends of hers."

There was a pause. "I passed through the town here. Drusa is full of life and fun and interest. She would be delighted with such a well-come reminder of the dear old school days."

"And you are going to bring the light guitar, eh?" smiled Harvey.

"With your assistance on the mandolin. Oh, we can make a fine romantic occasion of it, don't you see?" and Price leaned back luxuriously and complacently on the rustic seat of the little village park. Then he added, with a keen look at Harvey, who was still studying the lovely face in the photograph. "She hypnotizes you, does she? I say, not getting struck in that quarter, are you?"

If Miss Hoyt was in my own rather humble class," half sarcastically returned Harvey. "I wouldn't try to forget that beautiful face, as I must do for my own peace of mind."

There was a rustle in the park circling past them, and Harvey, turning slightly, observed a young girl arise from a seat. All that he noted was a graceful form and a long streaming blue veil. Then he handed the photograph back to his friend with the faint suggestion of a reluctant sigh.

He scarcely listened as Price told of obtaining the picture from his cousin, also of an item he had noted in a newspaper some time previous commenting on "the rare business success of John Hoyt, Esq." That must be Drusa's father, so "he was safe in spraying out the land," and "getting in touch with possible millions."

Harvey had been always helpful to Price, and the latter had treated him pretty well. Harvey considered serenades an obsolete art, and felt rather ridiculous at the thought of posing as a Spanish cavalier. However, he wished to be accommodating, and there was a real element of romanticism in Price's plan.

"You see, I'll surprise Miss Hoyt with the song the college fellows sang many a moonlight night under the seminary windows—'Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming.' We'll practice up a bit, stroll into the Hoyt garden and give this dear old burg a real sensation."

It was almost nine o'clock in the evening when the twain started out,
each carrying his special instrument under his arm. Earlier in the day they had strolled past the Hoyt home, and Price indicated where they would post themselves in the garden when the appointed hour arrived. As they left the hotel Price discovered "that he had run out of extra guitar strings."

"I'll get a supply from the drug store in case of accidents," he explained. "You go ahead and I'll soon join you."

Harvey reached the Hoyt home. He stepped in among the shrubbery and waited for a friend. Suddenly the lights were turned on in an upper room. There stood at its window a feminine form. It was Miss Hoyt, pale, delicate and she drew close to the window, and she crossed on her breast, as if to feel some deep emotion. Her head bent towards the interior of the house, as if some disturbance had alarmed her.

No entrance was Harvey at the en-

AND THEN THEY UNDERSTOOD
Mention of Popular "Singer" Here Enlightened Children as to Meaning of Word "Famous."

Class 1, second grade, were reading
some verses about the word "Famous."
When they had finished the verses, the teacher asked them to tell her what the word "Famous" meant. They had various answers, but none of them was correct. The teacher then asked them to read the verses again, and then she explained the meaning of the word. They were all very interested and learned a great deal from the lesson.

One little boy of German parents
said: "I have. She sings."
Then the teacher inquired: "Have you heard of Fritz Kreisler?" Silence followed. Then one little black-eyed girl volunteered: "People on the stage are famous."

"Yes, sometimes," the teacher asserted. "You no doubt have heard of Sarah Bernhardt." Not a light of recognition in a single eye appeared at the mention of the "Divine Sarah." Suddenly Tony's face beamed and he nearly waved his hand in his in-tructor's face as he explained: "Oh, I know who is most famous of all—Doug Fairbanks!"

If Mr. Fairbanks could have stepped into that room at that moment! Such frantic ejaculations of joy as emitted from the mouths of those youngsters!
Such is the glory of being famous!
—Indianapolis News.

The Spirit of '17.
The boy had taken from his pocket
a pair of big, dark-blue, home-knitted mittens; on the palms was sewed red woolen to re-enforce them. He carefully drew them on, folding his hands.
Thumbs up, on his luncheon-box, edged to the front of his chair, and sat thinking with eyes fixed on the far-away places of his dream. He was going over it all again; there was no haste, no excitement, no foolish sentiment, but sure determination and the courage of youth suddenly turned to manhood.
With a little start he came back to the present, and, rising said: "I guess I'd better be going. You said I could get a train in about half an hour?"

"Before you do so, will you tell me, my boy, why you chose the infantry?"
"Well, when you read of anything real hard that has to be done you will notice that it is always the infantry
that does it. They have to be strong, young fellows they can depend on for the real hard things. So I chose the infantry, sir."

There was a silence, which he broke with the quiet words, "I think I'll be going. Good-by, sir."—Mary Herrick Smith, in Atlantic.

President's Scotch Forebears.
When people meet these days the subject of war invariably crops up, and when one or more Scotsmen are in the party, the men from the land of the heather canny swerve the subject to President Wilson and throw their cheers out as they attribute all of his best qualities to his Scotch ancestry.

They assert that the president is related to several prominent Scotch families, being descended from Rev. Robert Woodrow, the well-known historian of the Church of Scotland, whose name he bears. Another of the president's ancestors was Robert Williamson, a prominent Glasgow citizen, through whom he is distantly related to the archbishop of York.

Potatoes for Ducks.
Ducks, as well as humans, must eat
substitutes.
Small potatoes, too small, in fact,
for the farmer to have paid any attention to ordinarily, are said to have solved the problem when mixed with carrots and other materials, minus water.

"No what is to be used for duck feeding," said W. R. Ager, Oregon food administrator. "Substitutes must be found, and I am told that patriotic owners of duck lakes have discovered a remedy and have applied it. They are paying high prices for small potatoes, which in former days would not have been dug at all. These they are mixing with other materials and the ducks are thriving on them."

Doing His Bit.
"We're saving fuel," remarked the lady. "I just left my husband stamping on the floor to keep his feet warm."
"Thrifty stamps, eh?" said her wag-
gish friend.—Boston Transcript.
